Overview

The North American region remains the largest market for solar containers, driven by a strong emphasis on renewable energy adoption. Asia-Pacific is emerging as the fastest-growing region, fueled by rapid urbanization and energy needs in developing countries. The global solar container market is expected to grow from USD 0.29 billion in 2025 to USD 0.83 million by 2030, at a CAGR of 23.8% during the forecast period. Growth is driven by the rising adoption of off-grid and hybrid power solutions, especially in remote, disaster-prone, and developing. The Pacific Merchant Shipping Association's West Coast Trade Report is a monthly publication that monitors container traffic through 23 North American seaports, twenty in the United States and three in Canada. The TEU tallies cited here are the actual statistics released by the ports themselves. Detailed breakdowns of cargo containers handled each month and year. Includes imports, exports and empties.
